

SYLLABUS

SYLLABUS
Name	Signature 19: Internship. (Course 6. Internship)
Degree	Official Master's Degree in International Migration
Year	2024-2025
Duration	Annual
ECTS credits	6
Character	Obligatory
University	Comillas Pontifical University
Professor/Author	Celia Beatriz Muñoz Ortega

COURSE SPECIFICS

Context of the course
Summary The Internship is implementation of applied activities in the field of materials views from the approach to migration. The aim of internship will be those activities directly related to international migration, performed by students in institutions, agencies, NGOs, foundations, corporations and other entities, and provide them with the means to exercise it on a professional level. This proximity will facilitate the learning of the students. This learning include new knowledge and deepening the already acquired, expertise -application of knowledge-, poise -work with other team, strengthen lines of interest, and to develop responsible and ethical knowledge acquired in the master.
Competences – Goals
CB-03- To be able to manage adequate information, searching and analysing different data sources. To know synthesise and analyse relevant data to make judgments that include reflection on relevant issues about social, scientific or ethical topics, related to the field of human mobility and international migration.
CB-04 - To be able to inform specialists and non-specialists partners in international migration and human mobility, about information, ideas, problems and solutions of these topics
CB-05- To develop sufficient autonomy to participate in research projects and scientific collaborations about international migration and human mobility, in interdisciplinary contexts.
CB-07- To take responsibility for their own specialization and professional development, in the field of international migration and human mobility.
CE-8 To develop learning skills to carry out research about of international migration and human mobility during the professional career.

CE-22- To integrate knowledge and formulate practical proposals in the field of human mobility and international migration. It must be include consideration about social and ethical responsibilities, linked to the application of knowledge and judgments obtained in this master.

Learning outcomes:

- The students learn how integrate into a real professional working environment, acquiring and practicing the competences of teamwork, individual responsibility and discipline of a company or organization.
- T develop projects in a professional environment, taking into account the implications as needed on issues of equality, non-discrimination, justice and social cohesion, social innovation, etc.

Contents and modules

Mandatory internships in public or private entities complement the student's training allowing to contact with the reality of immigration, thus facilitating their integration in this area. The goal is for students to get in touch with the reality of theoretical topics covered in migration, develop skills and competencies obtained during their training for the Masters, complementing also in this way their learning.

Learning activities	Hours per course
AF 11. Integration into the team for development of a real research project or intervention in the field of migration.	160hs.
AF 12 Developing a practice report.	20hs
Evaluation system of signature	Minimun weights
SE-6. Evaluation of follow-up sessions of intership.	50%
SE-2. Assessment practices report. At the end of the internship, the student must provide the internship coordinator of the master a report on the organization, tasks performed, conclusions of practical, personal reflections and suggestions for improvement. The internship coordinator will evaluate this report.	50%