TEACHING METHODOLOGY

General methodological aspects of the subject

In-class Methodology: Activities

AF1. Magister lessons in which the Professor will present the main concepts in a clear, structured, and motivating way, frequently through the use of audiovisual material.

CGI03

AF2. Classes with Active Participation. Lectures in which the Professor explains basic concepts and in which students are expected to discuss and debate conflictive or unclear points. The Professor will include dynamic presentations and require students to participate either spontaneously or having had previously prepared written answers.

CGI04

AF6. Case studies stemming from a brief Reading by the Professor, which will enable the students to apply the knowledge they have acquired and hone their debate skills. The case studies will be based on a selection of materials specifically geared toward the subject matter, enabling the student to acquire the proper reflexes to both confront and solve problems. Teamwork is suggested.

CGS11

AF7. Student presentations. Presentation and defense of a particular topic. May be either individual or group. Evaluations will be based on conceptual organization, mastery of the subject, clarity, order of the different stages and, in the case of group presentations, active collaboration of each of the team members.

CGI03, CGS11

Non-Presential Methodology: Activities

AF8. Individual study and further documentation which the student will carry out in order to understand, elaborate and retain material of a scientific nature, enabling him/her to apply it in his/her professional career. Individual reading (bibliography) and notes of all kind (books, magazines, the press, Internet publications, reports...) related to the subject material may be used. Students may find related material and documentation on the University website.

AF11. Academic tutoring may be carried out either individually or in small groups in order to 1) solve any problems which may have arisen

during the course and/or 2) observe the student's/student's understanding of the material studied.

AF12. Theme investigation. Learning procedure among team members which requires research, cooperation and the sharing of information in order to reach a common goal. Individual goals are met if and only if the other team members meet their goals as well.
