SPECIFIC DATA OF THE SUBJECT

Contextualization of the subject
Contribution to the professional profile of the degree
A characteristic of the Grade in Business Administration is its general nature. And a clear reflection of this is the extraordinary breadth of professional activities that this profile can access. From this perspective, professional practice demands from the students the challenge of knowing how to contribute with their effort and with their knowledge in contexts where they will inevitably be faced with dilemmas and ethical implications in their professional decisions, which will not only affect them personally, but also have consequences beyond their own lives.

To deal with these situations, a mere ethical sensitivity is not enough, since that is sometimes just translated into valuations resulting from mere uncritical subjective intuitions. On the contrary, today's professionals must be able to perceive the ethical implications of the situations they encounter and the consequences that can be derived from their decisions, to be able to assume them responsibly. And of course this has to be done from the perspective of a rational and wellfounded justification of their ethical criteria and assessment.

For all these reasons, together with the specific training of their respective specialties, it is essential that the future professional is trained to know how to deal with the ethical implications of its activity in a solvent and responsible manner.

Prerequisites

Students should be familiar with tools, techniques and goals of the different business areas, in order to apply the ethics discourse to them. Contents of the courses already passed are assumed.

IMPORTANT CLARIFICATIONS ON THE EVALUATION AND GRADING OF THE SUBJECT

- Severe academic misconduct, such as the plagiarism of previously published materials or copying in their examination or other evaluated activity, can lead to the opening of a disciplinary file and the loss of two summons. In tests or papers submitted in writing a Turnitin index of 30% or higher will invalidate the work.
- The improper use of ChatGPT or any other form of AGI will be considered a serious offense, according to the General Regulations of the University, art. 168.2.e: "carrying out actions aimed at falsifying or defrauding the systems of evaluation of academic performance". The consequences of this could be "temporary expulsion for up to three months or the prohibition to take the exam in the following call to the imposition of the sanction, in one or more subjects in which the student is enrolled, [...] apart from the grade of failure (0) in the subject, [...] and the prohibition to take the exam in the following call".
- In order to be able to take the final exam, it is a requirement not to have unjustifiably missed more than a third of the classes. Failure to comply with this requirement, the student may lose the right of examination, as established by the faculty (Article 93.1 of the General Regulations).
- The average grade of cases and reports will only be made when the final exam is approved. Cases, papers or reports submitted after the deadline will not be evaluated.
- The non-delivery or presentation of cases, works or reports, will suppose the suspense in the corresponding qualification section.
- Evaluations (a) in different summons to the first one, (b) for own students who are in foreign exchange and must carry out the course, and (c) in any other case where class attendance is not required, will consist only of a final theoretical examination on the theoretical contents that the teacher determines at the time.
- The teacher will specify at the beginning of the course how the control, checking and evaluation procedures referred to in the previous table will be carried out in each case.
- Unless expressly indicated otherwise, all work, exercise, or exam will be considered passed after 5.00 out of 10.00.
