TEACHING METHODOLOGY

General methodology of the subject

Contact hours methodology: Activities

The course will follow an interactive format, combining presentations analysing legal contents, with participation of the students (exchange of views and discussions, and Q & A periods).

In addition, each of 2 content areas composing the course will feature an interactive element. They will be, respectively:

- A group debate on the future of European Integration (students will read the European Commission's White Paper on the future of Europe in preparation of the debate)
- A workshop proposing the analysis of a number legal texts (conclusions of the European Council, speeches, political statements) in order to determine the number of institutional changes to be operated in the EU so that it can meet new policy challenges in areas such banking policy, migration, environment, etc.

At these two interactive elements of experiential learning, participation of the students is required, who will intervene under the guidance of the professor, who will provide comments and final feedback.

Outside class methodology: Activities

Although each student is supposed to structure his / her individual study autonomously, using the course syllabus as a guideline, and taking into consideration the advice of the professor on the first day of the course, the following recommendations can be formulated:

In preparation to each lesson, students are invited to read and examine the corresponding part of the PP course presentations. Any type of background material which could be the basis of the course exercises must also be revised in advance;

After each lesson and / or the conclusion of the course, revision of course content and notes taken during lessons. Students are invited to check the titles cited as basic bibliography. The professor could provide additional references for supplementary research if required.

Internet resources give us access to a wealth of information on EU affairs, which can perfectly complement the research carried out by traditional academic means.

www.cvce.eu is the website of the CVCE Centre for European Studies. It is highly recommended for those students with a keen interest in the history of the European integration project. In the digital environment provided by this site, students will find not only a detailed analysis of the landmarks events of this historical evolution, but also a digital archive of relevant European documents (political declarations, speeches, treaty acts, press cuts, etc.) as well as recorded audio-visual interviews with various personalities who, in different capacities, contributed with their efforts to the advancement of the European project.

Students are also encouraged to get quickly acquainted with the European Union's portal on internet hosted at <http://europa.eu>. This portal gives access to many interesting topical sections referring to the EU and its institutions, policies, the legal system, etc.

In addition, students are strongly invited to visit each of the institutions' respective web site:

- Council of the European Union: www.consilium.europa.eu
- European Council: www.european-council.europa.eu
- European Parliament: www.europarl.europa.eu
- European Commission: www.ec.europa.eu
- Court of Justice of the European Union: www.curia.europa.eu
- Court of Auditors: www.eca.europa.eu

All throughout the MIEBL, students will need to retrieve EU legal instruments and case-law, for their latter consultation. The quickest way to find these legal texts is consulting the electronic repository of EU law, hosted at www.eur-lex.europa.eu

Summaries of EU legislation in almost all policy fields plus commented accounts of EU action in each can be consulted in the following site: http://europa.eu/legislation_summaries/index.htm

These list is completed with a reference to a series of websites which will help the student to keep the pulse on EU's news and current policy and legal debates:

- www.euractiv.com (this site has versions in all of the 23 EU official languages)
- www.europeanvoice.com

NOTES

The explanations of the professor during the course are supported on extensive PP presentations which will be accessible by the students beforehand.

These presentations will be projected during lessons. However, they should not be exclusively regarded as visual aids for the course explanations and discussions. In addition, students are invited to use them as reference instruments and study tools. Due to the completeness of their content, they can be very useful for course revision in preparation of the exam.

OTHER MATERIAL

EU legal instruments, case law, newspaper clips and other material could be handed out before / during classes as complementary material, or as background information to be used by the students for the practical components of the course.
